

The structure shown here with the "login" functionality is used in the same fashion with every other activity, where the activity/fragment calls the LoginTask, and the task then notifies the activity when finished

This implementation is the same for: GetFeedTask, GetStoryTask, GetFollowingTask, GetFollowersTask, SignUpTask, SignOutTask, FollowTask, PostTask, and UnfollowTask

To keep the diagram clean, I limit the complete structure to the login activity, and just show the actual classes for each of the other functionalities. See code for greater detail
